CITY BLITZ is a peer-facilitated program for sharing best practices and innovating new solutions that can fast-track municipal sustainability countywide.

CITY BLITZ is a project of Pando Populus, a 501(c)3 organization that unites change-makers for hyper-local impact. Our aim is to create a more ecologically balanced way of life – starting with LA County.

CITY BLITZ is produced in collaboration with the Chief Sustainability Officer (CSO) Strategic Taskforce, which brings together CSOs from academic, business, and government institutions across LA County to focus on creating a more sustainable southland. John Onderdonk, CSO of Caltech, serves as chair. The Taskforce is a collaborative initiative with Los Angeles City Councilmember Paul Koretz.
